You're getting the email because you're at the top of the list. Who is the idiot that thinking this is a good idea? Temporary? Nothing is ever temporary when the government permits it. Once this gets started, it'll never get reeled back in. I'm going to be a pissed off homeowner/taxpayer when I have these people walking down my street. The same dope that says we're "not" a sanctuary city the same dope approving illegal street vending like we're a third world country? They're an idiot. If you want to pass this email to whoever thinks and thought this up directly and have them contact me. I'll be more than happy to inform them how stupid they are and have all the facts to prove it. I can careless about any framed piece of paper on the wall that says they are smart or educated. Doesn't mean they are, just they passed a class. This is California and the standards are low.
