COUNCIL MEMBER ITEMS

24. 24-893 Approved Item Submitted by Mayor Pro Tem McKeon, Mayor Burns, and Council Member Van Der Mark — High Density Residential Development — Health & Safety Criteria

Mayor Pro Tem McKeon introduced this item by stating that housing development projects often forgo necessary amenities that contribute to public health and safety in the design and construction of residential buildings and site planning in order to maximize profits at the expense of public health and safety. Significant adverse health and safety impacts occur as a direct result of development projects that perpetuate overcrowding and do not provide open space areas, access to public parkland, or access to public transit and reliable transportation options.

Residential development projects often construct buildings upwards and outwards on a project site to maximize the quantity of building floor area while minimizing areas of private and common open space and recreational amenities, vegetation and trees, and public parks to accommodate the most profitable project. Inadequate access to open space and recreational parks, coupled with reduced areas of vegetation and trees results in significant adverse impacts to public health, including mental health impacts, poor air quality, and chronic disease.

Reliable, accessible, safe, and healthy public transportation options do not exist in Huntington Beach and residents are forced to rely on commuting by car. Drivers are contributing to increased GHG emissions while simultaneously absorbing the associated negative health and safety impacts. A lack of access to frequent, reliable public transportation results in increased traffic vehicle crashes, increased air pollution and associated respiratory illnesses, and decreased physical activity levels. When housing development projects provide neither a sufficient quantity of onsite automobile parking spaces, ADA compliant parking spaces, or electric vehicle charging stations for residents nor access to high quality public transportation, the residents suffer adverse health and safety impacts.

The recommended action is to ensure that high density residential development does not cause significant and adverse impacts to public health and safety, and staff is directed to develop criteria to ensure these issues are addressed in future high density residential developments.

Councilmember Strickland stated his opposition to high-density development in Huntington Beach and commended his colleagues for bringing this item forward. He added he believes in preserving the suburban coastal Huntington Beach community and noted that is not a lifestyle choice everyone supports.

Mayor Pro Tem McKeon replied this effort is not against high-density development but rather an effort to ensure a continued focus on health, safety and quality of life issues for residents going forward.

A motion was made by McKeon, second Burns to ensure that high density residential development does not cause significant and adverse impacts to public health and safety, and staff is directed to develop criteria to ensure these issues are addressed in future high density residential developments.

The motion carried by the following roll call vote:

AYES: Twining, Kennedy, McKeon, Burns, Van Der Mark, Strickland, and Williams

25. 24-895 Approved Item Submitted by Mayor Burns — Review Process and Information for the Bolsa Chica Senior Care Community Project

Mayor Burns introduced this item by sharing his concerns regarding the nature and extent of the information presented at the recent project hearing for the Bolsa Chica Senior Care Community project, which was brought before the City Council on October 15, 2024.

He recommended that an Ad-Hoc Committee comprised of City Council members, City Staff, and the City Attorney's Office, be formed to review the process and information related to this project, to review the process and information regarding the Bolsa Chica Senior Care Community Project. The Ad-Hoc Committee will receive support from Community Development and the City Attorney's Office staff during this review. Mayor Burns added the ultimate purpose is to determine if there is enough evidence and information to revoke or amend the Bolsa Chica Senior Care Community Project Specific Plan approved on October 15, 2024.

A motion was made by Burns, second McKeon to form a City Council Ad-hoc Committee, consisting of three City Council Members, to review the process and information regarding the Bolsa Chica Senior Care Community Project.
