Public Participation & Public Comments

Public participation is welcome at all City board, commission and committee meetings. As such, the MHAB has maintained a count of the attendees and public comments made on mobile home matters.

	01/24/2022	03/08/2022	04/25/2022	07/25/2022	10/24/2022
of public attendance	39	36	46	18	63
of public comments	20	20	10	8	23

The following are some of the more frequent public comments themes:

- Residents of Skandia Mobile County Estates expressed concerns about the sale of their park to IPG, ensuing rent increases and their impacts on home equity; as well as a national trend of large corporations or investment banks purchasing mobilehome parks.
- Residents of Skandia Mobile County Estates and other mobilehome parks advocated for and requested the City Council's support towards placing a ballot measure for a carve out to exempt mobile home parks from Section 803 of the City Charter, which will enable the City to establish a Rent Stabilization Ordinance (RSO).
- Many residents, including those from Skandia, expressed their financial difficulties and anxiety as they are on limited fixed income and cannot afford high rent increases.
- Some public members stated the Manufactured Housing Education Trust (MHET)'s Rent Assistance Program is restrictive and insufficient to help most low-income, senior residents.
- Some shared their concerns regarding various types of retaliation by park owners, and many residents are afraid to speak up against park owners.
- Park owners and their representatives contended that the recent park purchase and subsequent property tax increases benefit the City and school districts, asserting that RSO is not a long-term solution.
- Additional groups such as the Western Manufactured Housing Communities Association (WMA) and the MHET also advocated against rent control.

Staff Liaisons and Involvement

Grace Yoon-Taylor, Principal Administrative Analyst at the City Manager's Office served as Staff Liaison and Secretary to the Board. Travis Hopkins, Assistant City Manager also attended all 2022 MHAB meetings to provide guidance and staff support.

Staff provided all new members with onboarding materials, including but not limited to the City's policies, regulations, member roster, and an updated list/map of 18 mobilehome parks. Staff also developed a new MHAB member manual that outlines roles and responsibilities and useful information about City policies, procedures, and resources such as the Parliamentary Procedure at a Glance, User's Guide to the Brown Act, and Huntington Beach Code of Ethics. As a go-to resource guide, this manual was electronically shared with the entire Board on August 18, 2022.
